“Possibly the best all-around AV preamp on the market ...”

AudioVideo Revolution

Reviewed by Christopher Zell, Ph.D

“My system has never sounded better than with the Anthem Statement D1 at the reins” says Christopher, admitting he has “played the daylights” out of his system since discovering the D1.

“... very transparent ... lusciously detailed ... capable of revealing detail even in subtle music ... crisp and clean ... very deep across the front of the stage ... Regardless of the format, multi-channel or stereo, the music flowing through the D1 was fabulous, a reflection of the source ... open, dynamic and effortless ...”

“... the D1 was spectacular with blockbuster films ... the best I have heard them sound, including in the theater ... exemplary performance ...”

“... it was often the more subtle soundtracks that enforced my appreciation of its capabilities ... stunning detail, three-dimensional and exciting ... with clarity and snap ... sharp and visceral ... the power of a live concert as realistically reproduced as I have heard in my system.”

“... designed to compete toe-to-toe with anything else on the market, regardless of price ... extremely versatile and sophisticated ... functionality and set-up — clearly rivals almost anything on the market ... sets itself apart by virtue of its extra versatility and adjustability ... a top flight performer ... I am quite enamored with the Statement D1 ...”
